

Adjunct Teaching Position
Environmental Studies Program
Washington University in St. Louis

The Environmental Studies Program, Washington University in St. Louis, invites applications for a one-year Adjunct Teaching appointment in Geographic Information Sciences and related areas of spatial analysis. The successful candidate will have sophisticated knowledge of GIS and its application in Environmental Studies and/or a related field. Teaching responsibilities will be one course per semester and the successful candidate must be prepared to teach an introductory-level course on GIS for students in the interdisciplinary Environmental Studies Program.

Ph.D. or an M.A. with suitable professional experience must be in hand by July 1, 2008. Scholars with suitable experience in any area related to Environmental Studies are encouraged to apply. Deadline for applications is June 15, 2008. Applicants should submit their curriculum vitae, a cover letter describing teaching interests, and contact information for three available references to:

Aaron Addison
University GIS Coordinator
Washington University in St. Louis
One Brookings Drive, CB 1169
St. Louis, MO 63130

Or email to: aaddison@wustl.edu

Washington University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer. Women and members of minority groups are encouraged to apply.